

Oil Tanker Market Analyst – Crude and Refined Oil Products

Salary/Rate: £45+ k per annum plus bonus plus excellent benefits package

Location: London, London Bridge area

Maritime Strategies International (MSI) Ltd is a dynamic and highly successful shipping consultancy business. Currently in a period of rapid growth, we are now looking for an Oil Tanker Analyst. The successful candidate will play a key role in developing new products and revitalising our existing oil tanker market shipping services. You will use MSI's modelling framework to generate trade and market forecasts, contribute to written reports and lead diverse consultancy projects. MSI's sector analysts lead industry thinking and a clear view of market trends is critical for this role.

The ideal candidate will be able to demonstrate a high level of analytical competence and possess a broad knowledge of oil markets (particularly refining and trade). This will have been acquired in a research/analytical role in a relevant industry and although this does not necessarily have to be shipping-related, this would be an advantage.

A highly motivated individual, they will be able to meet demanding deadlines ensuring work is completed to a good standard and on schedule. Furthermore, they will be adaptable and able to learn quickly and work competently in both a team or on an individual basis.

Main Responsibilities:

- * Maintain and develop the Company's proprietary oil tanker shipping market model, integrating new sources of data and adapting model architecture to changing market conditions
- * Contribute to regular oil market publications and bespoke consultancy projects
- * Source, structure and interpret regular numerical and statistical data on trade flows, vessel supply, industry earnings and asset prices
- * Support business development initiatives, product innovation and global marketing of MSI services

Experience & Education:

- * 2.1 Degree or higher, numerate subject (e.g. Sciences, Maths, Statistics or Economics)
- * 2+ years of relevant analytical industry experience
- * A proven analytical track record with the ability to communicate methods and results clearly both internally and to clients in written reports and presentations
- * The ability to maximise data integrity and consistency, to the highest level, throughout their work and implement checking routines and procedures
- * Advanced proficiency in Excel a distinct advantage

MSI is widely respected for its shipping forecasting and business advisory services across the globe. Clients include banks, shipowners, brokers, investors, insurers, and service providers. MSI offers a competitive starting salary dependent on experience, performance based bonus, attractive benefits package including BUPA, gym subsidies and pension contributions, and clear pathways to progression within the industry.

Please send your CV and a supporting cover letter in application for the role to info@msiltd.com. For further information on MSI please visit our website and/or contact Reuben Ramanah (Business Manager) on 0207 940 0070.